Over 1500 Participate in Ceremonies Inaugurating Dr. William W. Hassler As Fifteenth President of IUP

On Friday, October 10th, Dr. William W. Hassler was formally inaugurated as the 15th president of Indiana University of Pennsylvania before some 1500 faculty members, delegates, trustees, and guests in Fisher Auditorium.

Over 260 delegates of colleges, universities, learned societies, and associations from across the United States and from as far away as Puerto Rico participated in the day-long affair.

The inauguration ceremonies included a luncheon, a concert by the University Wind Ensemble, the academic processional, and a reception in the Blue Room of Sutton Hall, as well as the formal investiture and oath of office in Fisher Auditorium.

Speaker for the occasion was Dr. Calvert W. Ellis, president emeritus of Juniata College and former philosophy teacher of Dr. Hassler when the new IUP president was an undergraduate at Juniata.

Frederic K. Miller, Commissioner for Higher Education in the Pennsylvania Department of Education, administered the oath of office and conducted the investiture.

Early in his response Dr. Hassler applied to IUP at this point in its history the motto of former Chrysler executive Clint Townsend who listed his objectives as keeping what was good, changing that which needed change, and moving ahead.

Along these lines Dr. Hassler asserted that changes would not be made simply for the sake of change.

"There is much we don't want to change," he noted, praising his 14 predecessors who had brought IUP from a humble beginning with just 225 students and one building in its first year to a present undergraduate enrollment of 8550 full-time and 500 part-time students, a campus complex of over 50 major buildings and 185 acres, and university status.

In speaking with press representatives of the Indiana Evening Gazette on the eve of the inauguration, Hassler described IUP as a dynamic, changing institution in the process of developing from a state college into a university.

"I think," he noted, "there is one clear goal I have and that is to make this a full-fledged university which is recognized as such.

"I think we have the potential. I think we have the means," Hassler added. "I think we are in an extremely unusual position in that we can almost write our own ticket as to what kind of university we want to be. I think that that is what we are attempting to do right now."

Continuing along these lines in his response in Fisher Auditorium, Dr. Hassler expressed his concern for the development of IUP graduate progress, research activities and greater public service along with its emphasis on the primacy of teaching and concern for the individual student.

He pictured the university as a place where the development of those who would assist with the problems of society might take place in an atmosphere free of tension, pressure, anxiety, and violence.

In the view of IUP's new president, the university is seen as an arena for the meaningful exchange of ideas for learning based on tolerance and a mutual self-respect among students and faculty — "where the student may study, the teacher may teach, and the administrator may administrate."

Dr. Hassler concluded his remarks by stating that with the support of all the groups responsible to and for the university "we shall continue to make this institution one of which the Commonwealth may justly be proud."

Dr. Ralph W. Cordier, Dean of Faculty and Academic Affairs, and the presiding officer for the convocation, replied to Dr. Hassler's remarks by stating that the new president has the complete confidence and the full support of the IUP faculty.

Both the invocation and benediction at the Fisher Auditorium ceremonies were given by Rev. Arthur C. Dilg, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Indiana.

Dorothy Yanish, contralto, sang a vocal solo from Handel's "Messiah," accompanied by organist Catherine C. Carl.

$2,050,000 Fine Arts Building To Be Completed By Spring of 1971

A $2 million fine arts and theater arts classroom building is planned for Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

The new facility will be located on the northwest corner of 11th and Grant Streets across the street from Foster Dining Hall and adjacent to Cogswell Hall. The latter building will combine with the new classroom structure to comprise the fine arts complex at the university.

The four-story air-conditioned building, constructed of steel and reinforced concrete, will have a brick exterior with limestone trim and a built-up roof. Plans also provide for parking area, sidewalks and a service drive.

Inside the new hall will be facilities for graduate and undergraduate studies in fine arts and theater arts including office area, conference rooms, art gallery, auditoriums, classrooms, studios, make-up rooms, dressing rooms, rehearsal areas, a faculty lounge, rest rooms, and lockers.

Designed by Pietrolungo & Kimball, Ebensburg, the project has an exact construction allocation of $2,050,000 and is scheduled for completion by May 22, 1971.

A. R. Pechan, State Senator and Trustee, Honored at IUP Memorial Service

A Memorial Service for Albert R. Pechan, State Senator and member of the Indiana University Board of Trustees for more than twenty years, was held Monday evening, September 15, 1969 on the Indiana campus. Following is the Eulogy delivered at the Service by Dr. John R. Sahli, Professor of History at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

"We gather in this auditorium this evening to do homage to the memory of a man who represented in himself a symbol of that which is best in the life of Southwestern Pennsylvania. In fact, Senator Albert R. Pechan complemented the rugged hills, green forests and farmlands, and the somber mill studded rambling river valleys, where on every side, opportunity has waited, still stands, and ever will be for any man, regardless of his minority background. That is, if he is willing to seek it; work at it; and is able to give of himself that the common good might be served rather than the narrowly conceived, selfishly promoted, gross materialistic goals that are the world of so many people of limited stature.

"Albert Pechan was no idle product of these coal laden South-western Pennsylvania hills. His religious heritage, like the constituents he represented in the 41st Senatorial District, reflected a background based on Judaism, Roman Catholicism, and Protestantism. It was with good cause that this catholicism of the spirit could lead him to understand the inner feelings of all men.

"His formal education was in the Ford City schools, Bucknell, and the University of Pittsburgh where he graduated from its School of Dentistry in 1928. This preparation shows that he was not only better schooled than the majority of his legislative peers, but better prepared than any of them to know the problems of public and higher education. It is with no surprise that Albert Pechan served for 21 years as a member of Ford City's Board of Education and at his death was not only a member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Pittsburgh, but Vice President of the Indiana University of Pennsylvania Board of Trustees. However, it can be said that in all ways he served all of his fellow men. Clarion State College, also located in his 41st Senatorial District, received and recognized his contributions and its indebtedness to his interest and efforts in higher education.

"We at Indiana must realize that we have lost a friend and mentor who will be most difficult to replace. A legislative statesman of his magnitude is a rarity indeed. In 1964, seeing the need to strengthen the Pennsylvania education system at the college and university level, Senator Pechan introduced a proposal to convert Indiana State College and Temple to state operated universities. Here was an attempt to increase the opportunities for the young men and women of Pennsylvania to obtain higher education and make our state more competitive with the others. In December, 1965 Indiana State College became Indiana University of Pennsylvania, and a dream a reality. Few people, however, know that it was only last year that Albert Pechan stopped a bill in the Senate Education Committee that would have rescinded our university status. Such was the untiring work of a man that Indiana could really call a friend.

"Al, as he was called by his friends, always saw potential in people. He sponsored the right of 18 year olds to vote. He advocated that people receiving relief should be encouraged to seek work. He sponsored the parental responsibility act; just a few of the dozens of bills that he endorsed and believed in.

"Although a man of short physical stature, Al Pechan reached for the stars. He had a boundless capacity for trying to understand the other man's problems. To him no human being was that insignificant that he should not have respect. Only a week ago last Saturday he, with others, was hosting the Lt. Governor of Pennsylvania in the Senator's home county of Armstrong. Although engaged in a day of strenuous activities, and not feeling well at the time, he personally responded to a request by a group of boys camping on the Allegheny. Perhaps, this in itself is a small incident, but to those boys it was big, and it was one of hundreds that showed the love and understanding of this man for others. Many came to this man with their problems, and they always received an answer. However, let it also be said that if he did not agree with you, he told you. His was the spirit of candid honesty.

"There are so many things that one could say that were good about Senator Pechan. He went into World War II a private and came out a major. He was known as the Father of Fluoridation in Pennsylvania. He headed charity fund drives. He always had time to listen to the people he served. As a friend of mine said the other day, "He was a human dynamo." Such was the spirit of this man who physically crucified himself in the service of our people, whether in this back corner of Southwestern Pennsylvania, the University of Pittsburgh and its problems, or as the majority whip for 14 years in the Pennsylvania Senate, a body in which he served since 1948. It was rather ironic that at the time of his death, he was about to be called by the Nixon Administration for an assignment with the Inspection Division of the State Department, and still another opportunity to give of his strength and his talents in the service of his country.

"While some people may be slow to recognize, because of a lack of moral and historical maturity in themselves, the greatness of others, I am sure that the memory of Albert R. Pechan will grow greater with time. Just as the Pechan Medical Center on this campus, proportionately in size, does not adequately describe his many contributions to Indiana, this comparison to the largest buildings on this campus does not detract from his greatness here. Indiana University of Pennsylvania itself stands as a monument to this man who loved all of the people that he represented and he served them to the end. Are we equal to this challenge?

"In closing I would like to read this prayer which always had a place on Al's desk and with which he started his day. May it give to all of us a similar 'charge' of inspiration.

'A Morning Prayer

Dear Lord, before I start the day, I would with Thee commune and pray
To thank Thee for a restful night and this new day with promise bright.
Grant I may do some worthwhile deed and lend a hand wher'er the need.

Teach me to grow more brave and strong,
Show me the right way from the wrong.
Forbid that I should ever judge another's sin or hold a grudge,
Or prove myself shallow or vain,
Or through some thoughtless act, cause pain.
Keep me humble, kind, sincere,
Drive from my heart all doubt and fear.
Should joy or sorrow come to me,
Grant me the wisdom, Lord, to see and understand it is Thy will,
That Thy great love abideth still.
And lest I forget Thy face to seek Remind me oft that I am weak.
Walk thou beside me, all the way,
This is my prayer, dear Lord, today.

Amen' "

Army Band and Chorus to Perform— Indiana Alumnus is Director

The United States Army Band and Chorus will appear on the Indiana University of Pennsylvania campus early next year.

According to Daniel DiCicco, director of university bands, the appearance of the Army's top performing groups, January 9, 1970, will highlight the meeting of the eastern division conference of the College Band Directors' National Association.

Both the band and chorus are under the direction of LTC Samuel Laboda, an IUP graduate.

Faculty Members Author Textbook On "Small Town in American Literature"

Two members of the Department of English faculty at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Dr. David M. Cook and Dr. Craig G. Swauger, have recently published a textbook entitled The Small Town in American Literature through Dodd, Mead, and Company, one of the oldest publishing firms in the nation.

For use in English classes, this text will serve as a basis for papers dealing with both literary and sociological investigations. It is comprised of a collection of 22 primary sources—short stories, plays, poems and excerpts from novels—by American authors, many not previously anthologized.

With the material for the book coming as a result of the two professors' teaching and research backgrounds in American literature, the work deals with a variety of small town life in America from the mid-19th century to the present.

The book treats the fascinating and compelling theme of the small town through the works of such writers as Sinclair Lewis, Sherwood Anderson, Edgar Lee Masters, William Faulkner, Tennessee Williams, Wills Cather, Mark Twain, Ring Lardner, Shirley Jackson and John Updike.

Dr. Cook has been at Indiana for the past six years since 1963, when he came from Rutgers University; he earned his doctor of philosophy degree at Ohio University.

Dr. Swauger came to Indiana 14 years ago in 1955 after teaching seven years from 1948 to 1955 at Indiana High School as well as at Blairsville, Saltsburg, and Bell Township high schools. A graduate of Indiana, he earned his master of letters and doctor of education degrees at the University of Pittsburgh.

Football Program at IUP Placed on Probation by NAIA

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) recently announced that the football program at Indiana University of Pennsylvania has been placed on probation for one year. The probation began December 20, 1969, and will end on the same date this year.

In a letter to IUP, the NAIA said that the university violated the following policy: "Institutions which by intent or by action of the district or national body have been determined to be ineligible for the NAIA program shall not participate in events in conflict with our program without advance written approval of the Executive Secretary-Treasurer of NAIA . . ."

The probable reason for the probation is IUP's participation in the 1968 post-season Boardwalk Bowl, an event sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), after turning down a bid from the NAIA to compete in its national football playoffs. The university belongs to both the NCAA and NAIA.

IUP athletic officials stated that a university policy of playing a maximum of ten football games in one season dictated the decision to participate in the Boardwalk Bowl. Participation in the NAIA post-season games could have involved more than ten games.

According to the NAIA, the football team, during the probation, "will not be eligible for participation in either district or national events sponsored by the NAIA."

All other sports at IUP, however, will be fully eligible to take part in NAIA competition.

Former Indiana County Planning Director Named University Dir. of Development

Isadore R. Lenglet, Director of Planning for Indiana County for the past eight years since 1961, was appointed Director of University Development at Indiana University of Pennsylvania effective September 1. This appointment was approved by Indiana's Board of Trustees at its spring quarterly meeting.

Dr. Charles D. Leach, who had been Director of University Development for the past four years since 1965, will return to the classroom full time as a member of the Department of Educational Psychology faculty, also effective September 1.

Dr. Leach first came to Indiana nine years ago in 1960 as an associate professor of education and psychology and Assistant Director of Research. He served as Director of Research for five years from 1961 to 1966 and has held professorial rank since 1962.

The Director of University Development is in direct charge of plans for the development of the physical plant of the university. In this, he conducts long range planning as well as a continuing survey of all present facilities of the university to determine their adequacy.

Lenglet, who will hold the faculty rank of associate professor in his new position, has taught at Indiana University on a part time basis for the past six years since 1963 as a member of the Department of Geography faculty. He has instructed courses in urban and regional planning in that capacity.

In Pittsburgh Lenglet was a member of a team of planners charged with preparing a comprehensive plan for Allegheny County. His work included special studies on city and subdivision design, traffic analysis, building site planning and park and utility design as well as special studies on economy, population and land use.

A graduate of Patton High School in Cambria County, Lenglet earned a bachelor of science degree in landscape architecture at Pennsylvania State University and a master of urban affairs degree in urban planning at the University of Pittsburgh.

Chu Appointed Acting Chairman Of Foundations of Education Dept.

Dr. Don-chean Chu, a faculty member at Indiana University of Pennsylvania since 1962, has been appointed acting chairman of the foundations of education department, effective September 1.

He succeeds Dr. Harold J. Youcis as chairman of the department.

A native of China, Dr. Chu served as dean of Honan Normal School, president of Shing Young Normal Junior College, and director of personnel at National Central University in his homeland, all between 1940 and 1947.

In 1949, he earned his master's degree in education from the University of Maryland, and in 1953, he completed his doctorate in education at Columbia University. His graduate work concentrated on social and philosophical foundations of education and comparative and international education.

Dr. Chu, a member of many professional and academic societies, is scheduled to participate in education seminars in November in the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Finland, and Spain.

His professional service includes work as a research consultant to the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and the National Science Foundation.

In addition to authoring many articles and research reports, Dr. Chu has written three books, Pattern of Education for Developing Nations, Story of China, and the forthcoming Comparative Philosophies and American Schools.

Penna. School Boards Association Hold Annual Conference at Indiana

In July the Pennsylvania School Boards Association convened on the Indiana University of Pennsylvania campus for its 15th annual conference.

More than 600 school directors from throughout the Commonwealth participated in the three-day meeting in Cogswell Auditorium.

The theme of the 1969 conference was "Starting the 70's—Not Hopeless, Just Challenging."

To support the theme the conference included five workshops for the directors: "Developing Written School Board Policies," "Public Employee Law and Pending Problems," "Financing Tomorrow's Education," "Pressure Groups, The News Media and Board Meeting," and "Developing School-Community Relations."

Two speakers were featured in the general sessions: Dr. B. Anton Hess, deputy superintendent, and Dr. Herbert E. Bryan, assistant commissioner for school administration, both from the Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Bryan spoke on "School Boards, Their History, Heritage, and Horizons." Dr. Hess delivered an address entitled "New Frontiers in School Management."

Following afternoon workshops, the directors attended a banquet and the Indiana Summer Theater Guild's presentation "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" in the evening. The conference closed with the Sunday morning worship service in IUP's Flagstone Theater.

Prominent Pittsburgh Press Historian Addresses August Graduating Class

Dr. George Swetnam, prominent Pittsburgh Press historian, assistant magazine editor, and staff writer, delivered the principal address at the summer commencement of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Sunday, August 24.

The 332 graduates heard Dr. Swetnam speak on "Walnuts and Wine" at the ceremony in Fisher Auditorium.

Born in Ohio, Dr. Swetnam grew up in the South and attended colleges there, in New York and elsewhere in the East. He earned his B.A. at the University of Mississippi, a B.D. at Columbia Theological Seminary, a M.Th. at Auburn Theological Seminary, and a Ph.D. in Assyriology at Hartford Seminary Foundation.

His doctoral dissertation involved the decipherment of 100 previously undeciphered Assyrian temple documents written in Sumerian during the reign of Shu-Sin (c2005-1995 BC).

He also studied at the University of South Carolina and completed two years of graduate work in English, French, and German at the University of Alabama. He has taught English, German, and folklore at Alabama as well as at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Swetnam's interest in journalism and writing dates back to his high school and undergraduate college days when he did free-lance writing, mostly for technical journals and house organs.

Following a time as a photographer, free-lance writer, door-to-door salesman, and hobo, he entered the newspaper field during the depression, editing two weekly papers in Tennessee before moving to Pennsylvania.

After serving as managing editor of the Uniontown Evening Standard, he joined the staff of the Pittsburgh Press in 1943 as a rewrite man. He moved to the magazine department in 1951, still serving there today with his specialties of tri-state (Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia) history and folklore.

His interest in these subject has resulted in the publication of several million words in the Press.

His published works include "Pittsylvania Country," "Bicentennial History of Pittsburgh," "So Stand Throughout the Years," "Where Else But Pittsburgh," and "Pennsylvania Transportation."

Dr. Swetnam has also collaborated with other authors on a number of other books and is currently working on a book on Andrew Carnegie.

Former IUP Baseball Letterman Signs Contract with Detroit Tigers

Nick Sudzina, a former Indiana University of Pennsylvania baseball player, recently signed a professional contract with the Detroit Tiger organization.

Sudzina, a four-year letterman at IUP from McKeesport, will report to Detroit's minor league training camp in Lakeland, Florida, next March.

A 1965 graduate of Westinghouse Memorial High School where he batted .420 as a senior, the right-handed hitting outfielder continued to progress at IUP. His year-by-year improvement at the plate resulted in batting averages of .295, .315, .350, and .400.

During his four years of collegiate competition for the Indians, Sudzina struck out just four times!

For the past two summers he played in the Pittsburgh Federation League where he batted .485 and .425. He recently put the finishing touch to his amateur career by being named the most valuable player in the National Amateur Baseball Federation Tournament in Buffalo, New York.

Largest Freshman Class in History Begin Fall Studies at University

According to Dr. Fred Dakak, IUP's new Director of Admissions, approximately 2,000 freshmen students, by far the largest first year class ever, arrived at Indiana University of Pennsylvania for the fall semester.

The total freshmen of the Class of 1973 tops last fall's total of 1404 frosh registrants.

The new freshman class will combine with returning upperclassmen and 137 transfer students to bring IUP's undergraduate enrollment to about 8,500.

Of the new students, 707 have indicated they will enroll in the School of Arts and Sciences, and 617 have chosen the School of Education. Freshmen entering the School of Business number 167; Fine Arts, 149; Health Services, 91; and Home Economics, 79. The remainder are undecided.

Art Department Faculty Member Earns Doctorate at Penn State

Dr. Robert J. Vislosky, a member of the Department of Art and Art Education faculty at Indiana University of Pennsylvania for the past four years, was recently awarded a doctor of education degree by Pennsylvania State University.

His doctoral dissertation was entitled "A Comparative Study of First Year Art Teachers — Evaluations of the Teacher Preparation Curricula in Four Pennsylvania State Colleges."

Purpose of this study was to discover the consensus of first year art teachers' evaluations of their respective art related preparation curricula and to determine the extent of success of the curriculum as it directly aids the first year teacher.

A native of Pittsburgh, Dr. Vislosky had served as an elementary supervisor, art teacher on the secondary level and art coordinator for a total of 14 years in the public schools of Pittsburgh, Erie and New York before joining the Indiana faculty.

He served one year as an educational therapist in an experimental program in the Baldwin-Whitehall School District, in the suburbs of Pittsburgh, and has written a number of articles for art journals.

Dr. Raymond Lee Co-authors Book On Teaching of American Government

Dr. Raymond L. Lee, Director of the Social Science Division at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, is co-author with James A. Burkhart, Stephens College, of A Systems Approach to the Teaching of American Government published by Prentice-Hall Inc.

The 305 page book, which is designed for college instructor use, is keyed to the best-selling text in the field, Government By The People, also published by Prentice-Hall.

Under the direction of Dr. Richard F. Heiges, chairman of the department, an "experimental team" consisting of Heiges, Lee, and Professors Bert A. Smith, Dorothy A. Palmer, and Edward E. Platt has explored a variety of new teaching techniques during a two year period. Many of their ideas have been embodied in the new text.

"Systems Approach" is just one of a series of materials for the teaching of American Government that have been or are now being developed on the Indiana University campus.

American Government: The Clash of Issues, a reader in the field, first appeared in 1960 and in now its third edition. In addition to its use nation wide in colleges and universities, it has been adopted as the official text of the United States Armed Forces Institute. Professors Platt and Palmer served as consultants in the preparation of the current edition.

Publication is also pending on a new volume of test materials prepared by Dr. Heiges especially for the Seventh Edition of Government By The People. Likewise pending is a new edition of a student workbook, Guide to American Government, authored by Professors Lee and Burkhardt.

IUP Board of Trustees Ups Tuition To Offset Budget Cut of $2 Million

Effective with the first semester of the 1969-70 term, tuition for all undergraduate students at Indiana University of Pennsylvania was increased by $50 per semester.

This action was taken by IUP's Board of Trustees to insure the continued operation of the University, which is faced with a budget cut of more than $2 million for the coming year.

Under the general appropriations bill recently passed by the State Legislature, Indiana's budget was trimmed from $9.8 million to slightly more than $7.7 million. This represents a decrease of more than 20% in the amount of money included in the budget submitted by IUP a year ago.

In a letter to all IUP undergraduates, University President William W. Hassler emphasized the crippling consequences which such a drastic reduction in appropriations would have on Indiana's programs and operations.

"Among other things," Dr. Hassler pointed out, "it would mean no funds with which to employ the additional personnel needed to service seven new buildings including three high-rise dormitories housing over 1300 students.

"To deny admission to these students," he continued, "is as unthinkable as it would be to make ends meet by cancelling the contracts of new faculty or of eliminating the purchase of new library acquisitions.

"Faced with this dilemma, the Board of Trustees has taken the only sound step it could take to insure the continued operation of the University on a viable basis: it has increased tuition $50 per semester for all undergraduate students effective with the fall term.

"Even this increase," Dr. Hassler explained, "will not completely offset the deficit." He added that he hoped the Legislature would close the remaining gap when it reconvened in September. In the meantime, he assured the students, the University would be able to surmount its immediate fiscal crisis.

Governor Names Dr. Willis E. Pratt To Building Standards Committee

Dr. Willis E. Pratt, former president and chancellor emeritus of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, has accepted an invitation from Pennsylvania Governor Raymond P. Shafer to serve as a member of the Advisory Committee on School Building Standards.

In appointing Dr. Pratt and the other members of the 15-member advisory group, Governor Shafer was acting under Section 735 of the Public School Code which directs him to appoint such a committee which, in turn, advises the State Board of Education in making revisions in building standards.

Sections 733 and 734 of the Code require the State Board of Education to completely review and revise school building standards every five years. Such a review is done in light of improved facilities, equipment and methods of changing philosophies of classroom efficiency, and with a view to utilizing natural advantages wherever available.

Areas of concentration for the committee are light area, floor space, cubical contents, and heating and ventilating.

The committee will be expected to meet about one-half dozen times during the course of 1969 and to complete its work next January. Staff assistance will be furnished by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the final report will be submitted to the State Board of Education.

New Department Chairmen Named

Indiana University of Pennsylvania has named Charles Faust and Donald Walker as chairmen of the academic departments of Foreign Languages and Economics, respectively.

Faust replaces Dr. Herbert E. Isar, chairman of the department for the last three years, who will return to full time teaching duties. Faust has been a member of the Indiana faculty since 1960.

Dr. Walker replaces Dr. Francis G. McGovern, who was promoted to Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences when Dr. William W. Hassler rose from that position to become President of the university.

Faust first came to Indiana from Wake Forest of North Carolina, where he had taught from 1957 to 1960. He has also been a graduate instructor at the University of Virginia for six years from 1951 and on the faculty of DePauw University for three years beginning in 1948.

A graduate of Indiana University with a B.A. degree in French and English, Faust attained his master of arts at Middlebury College of Vermont in French and Spanish and has done graduate work in these languages toward a doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Virginia.

Faust was selected to Phi Beta Kappa honorary intellectual fraternity and to the Raven society, a campus honor group, at the University of Virginia; he is also a member of Phi Sigma Iota, a romance language honorary fraternity.

President of the Indiana chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) from 1964 to 1966, Faust also belongs to the Modern Language Association (MLA), the IUP Faculty Association and Faculty Council, and Delta Chi social fraternity, initiated at DePauw.

Dr. Walker comes to Indiana from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where he served from 1961 to 1969. Prior to that, he taught at Boston College, 1960-1961, and at Boston University from 1958 to 1960.

The new chairman of the economics department earned his AB in economics at Southwest Texas State College and his master of arts degree from the University of Texas. He took his doctor of philosophy degree in economics from Harvard University.

Dr. Walker is a member of the American Economics Association and the Midwest Economics Association.

UPI Names Klausing to Board

Chuck Klausing, Indiana University of Pennsylvania's head football coach, has accepted an invitation from United Press International to serve on its small college board of football coaches for the 1969 season.

Klausing, one of just 35 college division coaches throughout the country on the board, will help pick the nation's top ten small college football teams each week during the upcoming campaign.

A spokesman for UPI in Pittsburgh said that IUP's coach is a natural selection for the rating group because of the Big Indians' high national ranking in 1968 and their appearance in the post-season Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Klausing and his staff coached Indiana to a 9-1 record last season, losing only to Delaware, 31-24, in the Boardwalk Bowl.

Activities of Alumni Units and Groups

JEANNETTE UNIT

On Thursday, June 12th, the members of the Jeannette Unit met at Mt. View Hotel for the annual bridge luncheon.

President Agnes Jamison presided at the business meeting which preceded the afternoon's entertainment.

Mrs. Carlee Wannett, who represented us at the General Alumni meeting, gave a fine report.

Mrs. Robert Cestello, chairman of the nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for election:

President: Miss Margaret Ketter
Vice President: Mrs. Daniel

Stevenson
Secretary: Mrs. Edmund
Hebrank

Treasurer: Mrs. Newell Connor
All were unanimously elected.

Mrs. Jamison expressed her thanks to all committee chairmen and members who worked with her to make her term of office a most pleasant one.

Mrs. Cestello then presented Mrs. Jamison with a gift in appreciation for her fine and devoted service to the Unit.

Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Ruth Simpson, Mrs. Adelson Wilson, Mrs. Harry Stump, Mrs. Charles Scheff, Mrs. Anna Buck, and Mrs. Cestello.

Mrs. Evalyn Earhart, Mrs. Mary Johnson, and Mrs. Wilson were in charge of arrangements.

PITTSBURGH UNIT

Our Pittsburgh Unit closed its 1968-1969 year with the Annual Benefit Bridge Luncheon at the Edgewood Club on May 10, 1969. Peg Baxter Shiels and Margaret North Bush with their committee planned, prepared, and served a delicious meal. Emma Martinelli Nuzzo and her helpers had a wonderful array of door prizes and a helping hand was extended by many members in various capacities. This fine teamwork helped to crown our Benefit with success.

Many of our group returned to I.U.P. and enjoyed the Commencement Week End (May 23, 24, and 25, 1969). Little did we realize then that it was the last Indiana visit for our faithful friend, Helen Brennan, who passed away suddenly on June 5, 1969. Our Pittsburgh Unit and the Alumni Association has lost an enthusiastic worker and a loyal friend.

We were sorry to lose another fine member during the summer when Emyla Lepsch Musser passed away on August 6, 1969. She will be greatly missed by her many Pittsburgh Unit friends.

Summer travel has brought joy to many of our members. Gertrude Barthol, Louise Barthol, Gladys Elcessor, Audrey Smith Graham, Margaret Jones, Rachel Jones, Ethel Morrow, Roberta Banks Nern, and Lillian Rumbaugh were among the 350 persons who attended the Pennsylvania State Retired Teachers' Association Recreo program at Mansfield State College (July 27th through August 2nd). We hope more of our retired I.U.P. Alumni members will join us at the next Recreo Week on the campus of Clarion State College in 1970. We can assure them that they'll never have better fellowship, food, and fun for such a reasonable sum.

Some of our members ventured to distant places during the summer. Our Pittsburgh Unit President, Carolyn Anderson Jackson, journeyed to California via the Panama Canal. Beatrice Fleming Harvey enjoyed a trip to the Gaspe Peninsula area of Canada. Thelma Harris visited the Canadian Rockies, and Clara Lefkowitz Wakefield attended a study group in Scotland. We were happy to see one of our Life Members, Isabel James McCune, up here in the north from her home in Port Charlotte, Florida this summer.

Mildred Haas France of Cherry Hill Home, 2900 Cherry Street, Toledo, Ohio 43605 would appreciate hearing from her Indiana friends. Our favorite German teacher of bygone days, Marianne Baumbach, always enjoys notes from her former students.

Her address is 235 Amber Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15206. These shut-ins were once very active members of our group whose presence we greatly miss at our various activities.

Sickness caused some of our members to spend part of the summer in the hospital. We rejoice to know that Armitage Lysle Coburn and Verall DeBor are now back home after several weeks at West Penn Hospital.

After a busy summer, our membership is now looking forward eagerly to our 1969-1970 season. We will hold our monthly meetings in the Board Rooms of Pittsburgh National Bank at the corner of 5th Avenue and Craig Street. Our first meeting took place on September 9th. We had a fine crowd and interesting plans for the year were revealed at this September meeting.

WASHINGTON, D.C. UNIT

The annual spring meeting of the Washington, D.C. Unit was held April 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jarvie in Falls Church, Virginia. As usual Katherine Jarvie provided a fine luncheon of "home-made" treats.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President — Laura Gienger; Vice-President — Naomi Funk; Recording Secretary — Harriette Shaw; Corresponding Secretary — Jane Palmer; Treasurer — Mary Smith, Members-at-Large: Mary Caldwell Piranian, Barbara Wood Reamer, and Edith Cover Shaffer. Katherine Jarvie was retained as our Representative to A.P.C.A.A.

After discussion, a vote was taken and the Treasurer was authorized to send a check for $100.00 to the Alumni Giving Fund.

Our former President, Miss Dorothy Ramale, has been elected President of the General Alumni Association. In as much as she has served the D.C. Unit as President for several years, we feel we have had a small part in sharing this distinction with her. Knowing she is experienced and capable, we extend our congratulations and best wishes to her in this new and challenging venture.

The following guests were present besides Mr. and Mrs. Jarvie and their daughter, Mrs. Miller: Dorothy Ramale, Mrs. Guy Gienger, Mrs. Mary Piranian, Mrs. Warren Funk, Mrs. Donald Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reamer, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Lehman, Mrs. Forrest Shaffer and Mrs. James T. Vail.

We wish to extend our sympathy to Mary McAuliff Herman (a member of our D.C. Unit even though she lives in Cheyenne, Wyoming), whose husband died suddenly at Warren Air Force Base. While stationed at the Pentagon, Col. Herman attended several of our Meetings and gave a very interesting talk on some of his experiences while serving with the U.S. Air Force in Europe and Asia.

Mrs. Herman has received an engraved Certificate from the White House signed by President Nixon honoring the memory of Col. Herman and his devoted service to his country.

We enjoyed relaxation and a meeting of old friends on Sept. 7 when Barbara and Charles Reamer gave a barbecue and picnic at their home.

PITTSBURGH-NORTH BOROS UNIT

Our unit has just enjoyed its annual September "Get-together," the first of several events enjoyed each fall. This year's coming together after summer vacation was held in Kaufmann's Dining Room when plans for the year were made and dues collected.

We were saddened by the death of Miss Mildred A. Pauch on May 27, 1969. A fine member, teacher, and friend, Miss Pauch will be missed by us all.

Our annual banquet at the University Club this past May was brightened by the return of Miss Mary Wyman after a long illness, Mrs. Mellot from a successful cataract operation, and a visit from Mrs. Daugherty, one of our members now residing in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Welcome back to Miss Bell Hannah from her summer stay in the nursing home; and to Mrs. Clara Anderson-Plank from an emergency stop at the Harrisburg Hospital while returning from Ocean City with her daughter.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Juliette, our Vice-President, on her marriage.

The big event on our calendar was Indiana's Annual Homecoming on Saturday, October 18th, when we renewed many old friendships.
